

Ah So

Rushworth Chronicle

15 September, 1893

Ah So, one of the oldest residents in the Chinese camp, Snake Gully, Rushworth, was found dead in his hut on Thursday, the 7th inst.

The deceased was one of the very few who are left of those who came out in the early days of the diggings, but never succeeded in making sufficient to enable them to return to the Flowery Land.