

Christopher Hanson

Rushworth Chronicle

15 April, 1898

Christopher Hanson, another old identity of Rushworth, passed away on Sunday last, aged 55 years, after suffering for six years from miner's complaint.

He was a member of the Oddfellows Lodge for many years.

"Chris," as he was familiarly called, was endowed with one of those singularly gentle and genuine natures that enabled him to secure as friends all who came in contact with him.

The remains were interred in the local cemetery on Monday.

The Rev. Mr Walker officiated at the grave. Mr Medhurst had charge of the funeral arrangements.
