

Daughter of Constable and Mrs Theobald

Rushworth Chronicle

1 March, 1918

Constable and Mrs Theobald, of Rushworth, suffered a sad misfortune on Tuesday morning last in the death of one of their children, a little girl about five years of age.

The deceased had been ill for only a few days, therefore her death came as a greater shock to the bereaved parents. About ten days ago the child partook of some tinned fish for tea, being very ill afterwards, and the indications pointed to ptomaine poisoning. Other complications ensued later and the little sufferer passed away as stated.

The remains were interred in the local cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Rowell officiating.
