David McKay

Rushworth Chronicle   11 July, 1890

A very old resident of Rushworth in the person of David McKay passed away last Wednesday. He had been ailing for some time, and continued exposure brought on a severe attack of bronchitis to which he succumbed.

He was 43 years of age at the time of his death, and came to the colony when 10 years old, having spent a little time in New Zealand.

He carried on the business of a butcher in the town.

Rushworth cemetery records include reference to David McKay buried in the Presbyterian section.
