

David Scott

Rushworth Chronicle

20 August, 1886

Death is still busy amongst us. Mr David Scott, farmer, of Merrigum, we regret to say, has been gathered in by the fell reaper.

He was one of the earliest miners attracted to this district, having come here about 30 years ago.

Some 15 years since he took to farming, and, with Mr Clapp, was one of the first agriculturists in Merrigum.

He leaves a wife and family in comfortable circumstances.

A large number of mourners followed his remains to the Rushworth Cemetery on Wednesday last.
