

George Charity

Rushworth Chronicle

17 January, 1913

A very old and respected resident of Gobarup, in the person of Mr George Charity, farmer, passed away on Monday last, the cause of death being senile decay.

Deceased was 89 years of age, but for a number of years past had become very infirm, so that death must, have been a happy release to him.

The funeral took place on Wednesday at the Rushworth cemetery, a large number of friends joining the funeral cortege.

Rev. H. Richardson conducted a short service at deceased's late residence, and also officiated at the Rushworth cemetery.

The late Mr Charity was a quiet and unassuming man.

For several years he was a J. P. and shire councillor at Metcalf. On leaving Redesdale he was presented with a beautifully illuminated address, in which his valuable services to the council and district were set forth, much regret being expressed at the loss his removal would occasion.
