

Mr Ah Chong

Rushworth Chronicle

28 April, 1911

Mr Ah Chong, a very old identity of Moora, where he had a garden, died on Tuesday last.

He was a very quiet old man and was well respected.

He leaves a widow and large family to mourn his death.

Ah Chong's name appeared regularly in the local newspaper over a number of years, so this obituary is disappointingly brief. His name is near the top of Rushworth Cemetery's burial list.
