

Mrs Sophia Bent

Rushworth Chronicle

5 December, 1884

Mrs Bent, well known in the district for considerably over twenty years as the licensee of the London Tavern, Coy's Diggings, expired at her residence on Friday, and her remains were interred in the Whroo cemetery on the 30th ult. [November].

The deceased had been ailing for some time past, and had consulted the leading medical gentlemen of the metropolis without avail.