Rushworth Chronicle

9 December, 1898

DEATH.

SIMPSON.—On the 7th December, at Rushworth. Louise Simpson, storekeeper. Aged 70 years.

Yet speaketh—There was no last word,
So suddenly on us the sorrow fell;
Her bright translation to the home above
Was clouded with no sorrow of farewell.

Mrs Simpson, the well-known fruiterer of High Street, Rushworth, expired at her residence on Wednesday last from paralysis, after an illness of a few days duration.

The deceased, who was a very old resident of the town, was very much respected. She leaves a grown up family to mourn their loss.

The remains were followed to the local cemetery yesterday by a large number of the residents.

Some of the wreaths on the coffin were very handsome.

The Rev. J. R. Walker officiated at the grave. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr Anderson.
