

Mrs J. Cook (likely Jane)

Rushworth Chronicle

25 September, 1896

Many of our readers will regret to learn that Mrs J. Cook expired at her husband's residence, near Kyabram, on Friday last, after an illness of some six months duration.

The deceased, who had lived in Girgarre East for many years, was very much esteemed for her many good qualities.

The remains were interred in the Rushworth Cemetery on Sunday.

The Rev. Mr Weir officiated at the grave.

Mr Bishop, of Kyabram, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Cooks buried at Rushworth are all identified, and, from the short list, this must surely be Jane.
