

Richard Price

Rushworth Chronicle

9 December, 1898

Richard Price, a very old resident of Rushworth, was found dead in his hut on the Moora road on Friday morning last, death having evidently taken place only a few hours previously.

The deceased, who was over 70 years of age, was herdsman of the Goldfields' Common for a number of years.

The remains were interred in the local cemetery on the following day.

Mr Mullany officiated at the grave, and Mr Anderson was the undertaker.
